Mr. Hans Eberhard Schloth

Dear Mr. Schloth:

Upon my return to Washington from a trip abroad, I find on my desk your card and note referring to recent news stories in which I have been mentioned.

I have read your comments with a great deal of interest and appreciate your kind words of support. It is a pleasure indeed to give you my autograph herewith.

With best wishes.

Sincerely,

SIGNED

I have heard from you through the news-paper and I wish to you from my whole ^{heart} a still very great success in your office as chief of the secret-service. May you, Mr. Dulles have still very much success and much happiness, very much happiness. Also I wish to you a very great prudence and a very great far-seeing, that you may get the glory for American people and the American State and that you, Mr. Dulles may become as famous as your famous brother. Besides I wish to you from my whole heart a still very long lasting health and still a very nice and prosperous life. And I wish to you, very honoured Mr. Dulles, that all in your future life may only proceed to your advantage and success and I wish to you, that you may live to see only nice adventures. With all the best wishes

it greets to you Your

Klaus Eberhard Schloth.

Please, would you be so kind to give me your monogram? It would be the nicest present in my life if I could get this. I want to take you up into the circle of the most famous men of this world. And I would feel me very happy if I could gain your autograph. I hope, Mr. Dulles, you will fulfil my little wish. A letter-card for signing is added.
Very much Thanks in advance and further very much success, happiness and prudence.
